

COMPREHENSIVE GLOSSARY OF NUMISMÁTICA AND NOTAFILIA

A unified reference combining terms from Numista, Colnect, Wikipedia, PMG, and Heritage Auctions.

Term	Category	Definition
Adjustment Marks	Numismática	File marks made on a coin planchet before striking to reduce its weight to the legally prescribed standard.
Altered Note	Notafilia	A banknote that has been chemically or physically modified to increase its apparent rarity, value, or grade.
Anepigraphic	Numismática	A coin or medal that features designs but completely lacks any inscriptions, lettering, or legends.
Asmade Crease	Notafilia	A paper crease or wrinkle created during the manufacturing process of the banknote, rather than from circulation wear.
Assayer	Numismática	The mint official responsible for analyzing, testing, and guaranteeing the purity of precious metals used in coinage.
Billon	Numismática	An alloy containing a low percentage of silver (typically less than 50%), with the remainder being mostly copper.
Brick	Notafilia	A bundle of newly printed banknotes, typically containing 1,000 sequentially numbered pieces bound together.
Cobs (Macuquinas)	Numismática	Crude, hand-struck silver or gold coins produced at Spanish colonial mints, made by cutting slices from refined metal bars.
Cordoncillo	Numismática	The decorative, patterned, or corded edge design applied to coins to prevent clipping and illegal metal shaving.
Cospel	Numismática	The raw metal disk, also known as a planchet or blank, prepared and weighed before being struck by dies.
Die Marriage	Numismática	The specific combination of an obverse die and a reverse die used to strike a particular coin variety.
Drachm	Numismática	An ancient silver coin denomination originating in Greece, which later influenced numerous regional currencies.

Term	Category	Definition
EPQ (Exceptional Paper Quality)	Notafilia	A grading designation used by PMG to denote a banknote that is entirely original and has not suffered chemical, physical, or cosmetic modifications.
Escripofilia	Hybrid	The study and collection of historical financial securities, specifically stock certificates, bonds, and share warrants.
Exonumia	Numismática	The study of coin-like objects other than official legal tender coins, such as tokens, medals, badges, and counters.
Fancy Serial Number	Notafilia	A highly collectible serial number layout, such as radars (palindromes), solids, low numbers, repeaters, or ladders.
Fractional Currency	Notafilia	Paper currency issued in denominations valued at less than one basic unit of the national monetary standard (e.g., cents).
Intaglio	Notafilia	An advanced security printing method using engraved plates that transfer thick ink to paper, creating a distinct raised texture.
Kopek	Numismática	A historical fractional coin denomination of Russia, Belarus, and Ukraine, traditionally representing 1/100th of a ruble.
Legend	Numismática	The primary textual inscription running along the outer edge or border of a coin or medal.
Microprinting	Notafilia	Extremely small printed text that appears as a solid line to the naked eye but is readable under magnification, acting as an anti-counterfeit feature.
Notaphily	Notafilia	The formal study and collecting of banknotes, paper money, and similar paper-based circulating currency.
Overprint	Notafilia	Additional text, symbols, or graphics printed over an existing banknote design, often to alter its denomination, issuing authority, or territory.
Planchet	Numismática	The blank metal disk, prepared with upset rims, that is loaded into a coining press to be struck with a design.
Polymer Note	Notafilia	A modern banknote printed on synthetic plastic film (such as biaxially oriented polypropylene) for durability and advanced security.

Term	Category	Definition
Radar Note	Notafilia	A collectible banknote featuring a serial number that reads the same backward as forward (a palindromic number).
Replacement Note (Star Note)	Notafilia	A banknote printed to replace a defective sheet discovered during production, frequently identified by a special symbol (like a star) in its serial number.
Sheldon Scale	Numismática	The standard 70-point numerical system used in numismatics to grade the physical wear and preservation state of a coin.
Specimen (Muestra)	Notafilia	A sample banknote printed to demonstrate designs, colors, and security features to banks and law enforcement, usually bearing all-zero serials and "SPECIMEN" overprints.
Strap	Notafilia	A paper band used to bundle exactly 100 banknotes of the same denomination.
Toning	Numismática	Natural coloration that forms on a coin's surface over time due to chemical reactions with air and storing materials.
Vignette	Notafilia	An ornamental illustration or portrait on a banknote that has no defined border, softly fading into the background design.
Watermark	Notafilia	A security design created during paper manufacturing by varying the paper's thickness, visible only when held up to a light source.